Michelle,

I'm forwarding initial feedback received regarding your request to review the ordinances on the keeping of chickens in residential districts.

1. Mayor Thompson said he would veto any Council action permitting the keeping of chickens.
2. Alderperson Lindsay Reynolds called and added a review of the ordinance to the January 7, 2016 Public Safety and Health Committee agenda. She chairs this Committee of three which is a subset of the City Council. The tentative 1/7/2016 meeting time is 6:30 pm in the Police Training Room of the Municipal Building. The time may be set for 6:00 pm if numerous items are on the agenda. The Council meets at 7 pm, so the Committee meeting will conclude at or before 7:00 pm.

Michelle,

I will forward your request seeking a review of the ordinances regarding the keeping of chickens to the elected officials. The reasons have varied over time. Waterloo resident and former Plan Commission member Liz Perry previously advocated for allowing hens, but the effort did not have sufficient support to change the ordinance. That was five or more years ago. Note: The ordinance (see below) applies to parcels not zoned Agricultural.

Chapter 126: Animals
§ 126-2 Keeping of poultry and livestock.

Is there a way to have this reviewed again? What is the reasoning that it keeps being denied?
