Monday March 3rd, 2014

On Monday February 10th, 2014 we had our monthly EMS training. The EMT's trained on a new pilot program with Dr. Foster. The program is nasal narcan, this medication is used for certain medication and illegal drug overdoses. The EMT's had to get trained on this medication, the EMT I's already have been and is able to give this medication. This medication is a fast acting med so they have to know how much and how quick to give this med otherwise if you give it to fast the patient could get very agitated and combative. Our ambulance drivers went and trained on driving, they have to preform different tasks for example backing up skills and quick thinking. Before our drivers can even start driving they must go through 6 hours of class time and another 14 hours behind the wheel, there is a written test and a driving test.

This year is our EMT refresher time. On February 1, 2 & 15 the EMT I's were in refresher class. This class was a hybrid and transition course that was taken. The class room time was 24 hours of class room time and 24 hours of online. The classroom portion was a lot of hands on training and the online was research, scenarios and communication skills. The transition part of this course was more advanced skills for the EMT I's. Emergency Medical fields, there are always studies going on to better the patient. So with more training we have adapted a few more skills.

Also our Emergency Responders had their refresher on February 1, 2 & 15. The EMR's are firefighters and EMS drivers. This course is a 24 refresher course for our members.

On Monday February 17th, 2014 we had our monthly Fire training. This training was on air consumption, this is done with our SCBA (self-contained breathing apparatus). With all of the turnout gear and SCBA the members performed lifting up a section of hose one story then walking to the next where they had to swing a mallet 20 times then walk to the confine space approx. 25 ft long then walk around the bay and repeat. They have to continue to complete that task until the low air alarm begins, then they walk to the resting area where they sit down still with everything on and control there breathing. What this does for the firefighters is shows them how to control their air with breathing, how long they can work until there air gets low and if trapped how to manage their air to make it last as long as they can.

Wednesday April 2nd, 2014

On Monday March 10th, 2014 we had our monthly EMS training. A few of our members had gone to Wisconsin EMS Association conference in January. If the members go to this conference they are required to bring back a presentation for the whole department on what they have learned. This conference is one of the biggest conferences in the US. We had two of our members speak. The first was on grain bin and solo emergencies, better ways to take care of the patients and safety for the responders. The second speaker was on birthing, which was about new emergencies that they are seeing more common with emergency birthing deliveries.

This is the year that we had refreshers, the AEMT's had gone through the refresher last month and the EMT's went through there refresher this month. The EMT refresher is approx. 32 hours two full weekends.

On Monday March 17th, 2014 we had our monthly Fire training. We had three different stations going. The first station was on ground ladders. With the ground ladders they had to place them to the building properly, then gain entrance to the structure making sure the floor was sound enough to enter and then rescue a victim. The second station was learning the acronyms. In this day in age there are different acronyms for many things. For instance if a firefighter would become trapped they have the LUNAR acronym which stand for Location in the structure, Unit that they came with, Name of the trapped firefighter, Air how much do they have left in there SCBA (self-contained breathing apparatus) and Resources what is needed to rescue that firefighter. The third station was with new aged fire and different techniques to fight these fires quickly.
