Mayor Thompson,

The purpose of this email is to recommend to you and to the City Council that consideration be given to budgeting for, and entering into an agreement with Associated Appraisal Consultant Inc for a full reevaluation of property in calendar year 2016.

Attached is a spreadsheet describing annual assessor requirements, a contract proposal from Associated Appraisal and Department of Revenue (DOR) figures providing an overview of assessed values, DOR equalized values and the important ratio between the two.

BACKGROUND.

The Board of Review met last week. Each year the Board of Review meets to hear property owner objections to the Assessor's valuation of real estate property. The real estate and personal property assessment values, established by the Assessor, multiplied by the annual rate of property taxation (i.e. mil rate -- which is set by the combined annual budgeting processes of the City, School District, County, Madison College and State) equals the amount of property taxes collected each year in the City of Waterloo.

By law the Board of Review has to be in session for a minimum of two hours each year. This year no citizens came forward to object to the Assessor's valuations. Therefore a period of time was spent reviewing training materials and discussing the need for a revaluation of property. The matter of a revaluation was not on the Board of Review agenda, but at the meeting members Kay Radloff and Keri Sellnow spoke in favor of the City planning for a complete revaluation of property in calendar year 2016, allowing two years to budget for the necessary funds. It was noted that the 2013 figures show that assessment levels are not in compliance with DOR requirements and the City has several years to gain compliance.

WHAT IS A REVALUATION?

A revaluation is a complete interior and exterior valuation of all taxable real estate property. Each year the Assessor conducts an annual review and maintenance of property and property records. The Assessor tracks the sale of real estate and adjustments are made to specific properties because of sales, improvements, structural additions, new construction, etc... What doesn't take place every year is a comprehensive review of all properties with the results plugged into a computer model so that sales for the past three years are used to adjust the values of similar property. We have been with Associated Appraisal for two years now. All the paper based data for the City has been converted from the prior Assessor to a digital format in compliance with Department of Revenue standards which came into effect in 2013. To date the current assessor is carrying forward and defending assessment data that dates back a sizable period of time.

WHY 2016?

The Department of Revenue recommends a revaluation every five to seven years. The last City of Waterloo revaluation was 2001-2002. The primary reasons:

(1) The 2013 assessment ratio shows us out of compliance per DOR requirement. We have multiple years to comply. The ratio between the municipal assessed value and the DOR base value for the residential and commercial categories of property are not in compliance with a DOR standard which states that the assessed value has to be within 10% of the DOR base value (i.e. acceptable range 90% - 110%). See attached for the 2013 data from the Final Major Class Comparison sheet dated 2/24/2014. These are 2013 figures. The total assessment ratio is 110.36% with residential at 116.39% and commercial at 88.55%.

(2) Our assessment uniformity is poor. In an Annual Review and Maintenance mode as we have been since 2002, we carry forward old assessment data and we do not make full use of the Associated Appraisal's data modeling tools which would remedy poor assessment uniformity.

(3) Given the historic market swings experienced, just carrying forward old figures distorts assessment values.

FOCUSING ATTENTION ON STABILIZING AND GROWING PROPERTY VALUE.

Over time assessed values have not been adjusted in a comprehensive manner outside of routine changes to specific properties based upon the sale of that property (i.e. Annual Review and Maintenance). Yet the market has had a sizable adjustment. A revaluation helps remove assessment uniformity distortions. In a general sense, it also focuses attention on the community challenge of growing property values. A municipality losing property value is not a healthy community.

Subject: City of Waterloo Revaluation

Good morning Mo,

Attached you will find an agreement for Associated Appraisal Consultants, Inc. to conduct a complete revaluation of the City of Waterloo for 2015 or 2016. I understand that you had an extensive conversation at the Board of Review regarding the need for a revaluation and the work to be accomplished on the City's behalf.

I have also provided information from the assessor's manual regarding revaluations and the work to be accomplished with each type. As you can see from the chart, the Department of Revenue recommends a full revaluation every 7 - 10 years. A consistent revaluation schedule ensures all improvements are captured and each tax payer pays their fair share.

Please contact me with any questions you may have regarding the work. I would be happy to mail you hard copy as well if you wish.

Have a good day.

Lisa Anderson
